Foreword

Into the planning and publication of Lamar's yearbook have gone many hours of thoughtful labor. The staff designed, drew, cut, photographed, agreed, and disagreed, and finally produced with a sigh the tenth Orenda. We hope that this book will serve to record for you your years at Lamar, which will soon merge in your memory into one day—the happiest day ever spent. And so, to the students of Lamar—to you individually and to your futures collectively—we dedicate proudly the 1948 Orenda.

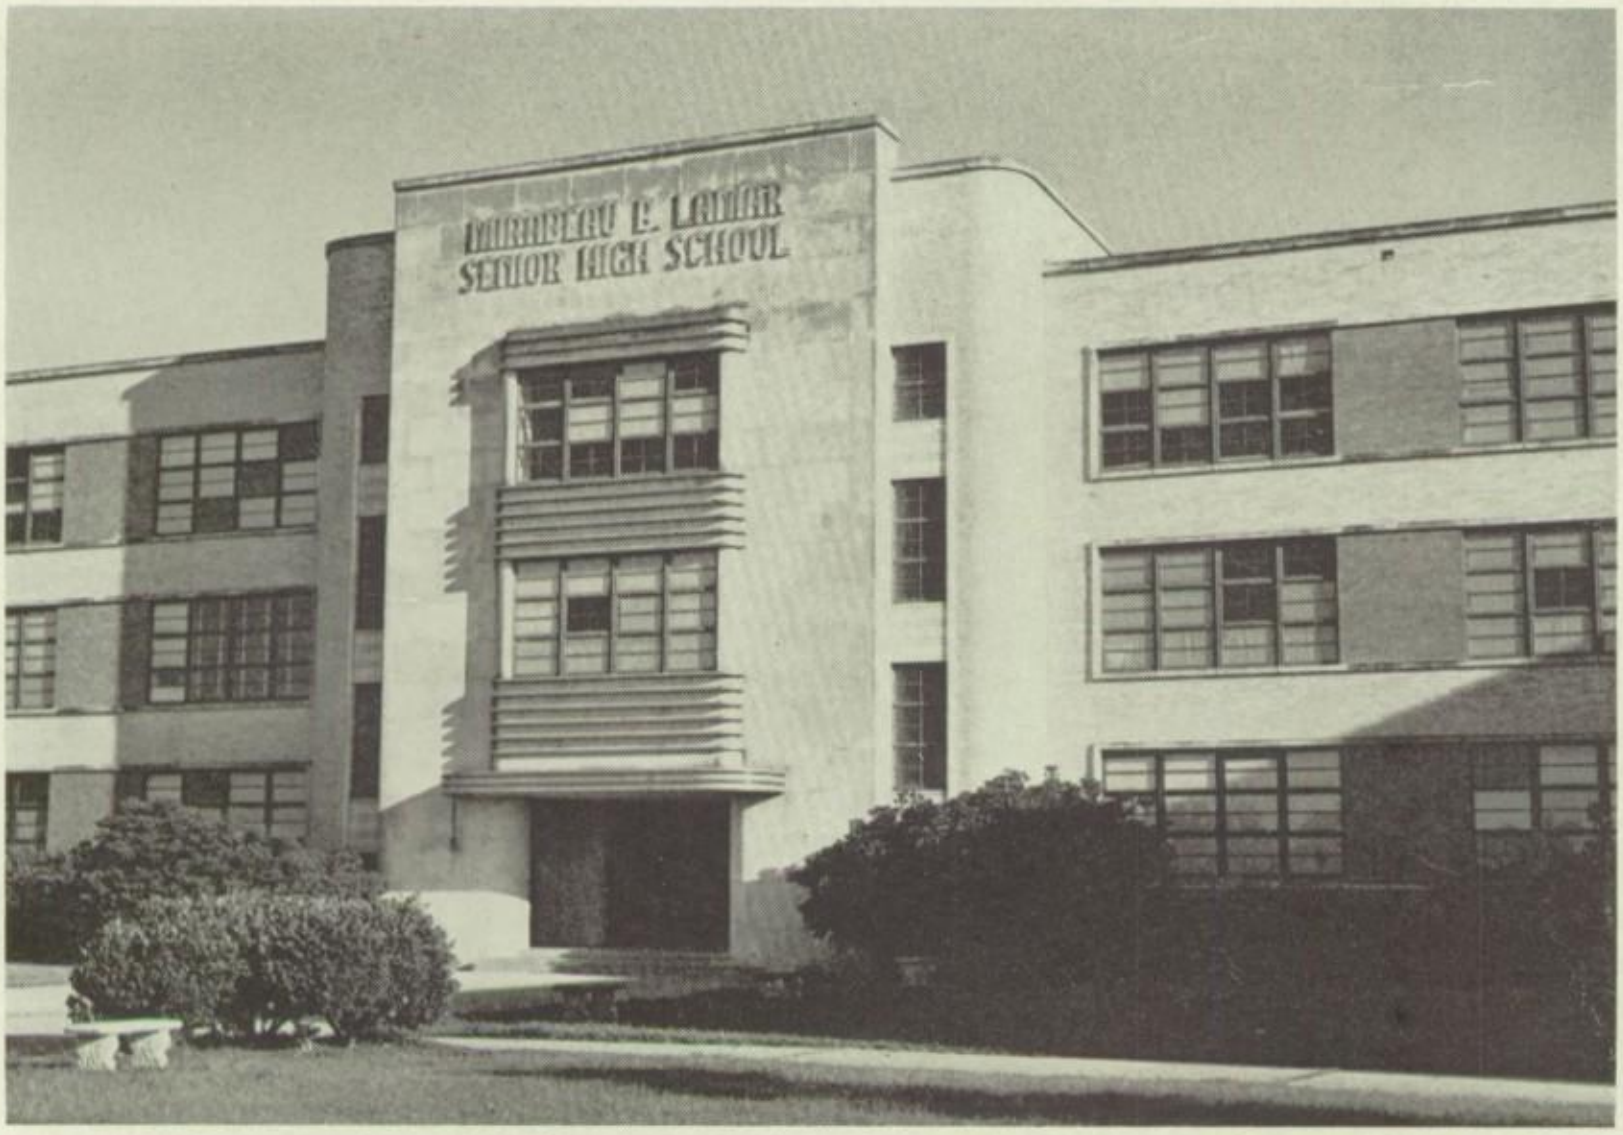
STUDY CLUBS



The largest part of our day at Lamar is consumed in gaining knowledge. The hours we have spent in the classrooms and the associations we have made there will undoubtedly be the basis for our cultural and intellectual life.

A Message from Mr. Moyes

LAMAR'S PRINCIPAL

They tell us that in the Indian tongue Orenda means "The Great Spirit." I like to think of it also as meaning our Recording Angel, for on its pages of white are chronicled the events of the passing years. From its pages peep the faces of those, our friends, our associates, and our teachers, whom relentless Time shall all too soon consign to the realm of memory and the land of used to be.

In the years to come, our Orendas will serve to keep alive memories of our achievements, our triumphs, our good times, and all that goes to make the years of high school both pleasant and profitable.

Faculty

We stopped Mrs. Wilson, Mr. Keding, Mr. Herring, and Mrs. Huddleston beside the trophy case long enough to take a picture.

English teachers all are Mrs. Parrish, Miss Buchanan, Miss Knolle, Miss McCarty, Miss Greenwood, and Miss Brasher, who are admiring the Book Week poster in the hall.

School is out, and Mr. McCotter, Mr. Butler, Mrs. Sanders, Mrs. Brinton, Miss Red, Mrs. Porter, Mrs. McDaniel, Mrs. Powell, Mr. Anderson, Mrs. Tebow, and Mrs. Hammerling pause for a moment of rest.

Mr. Mickelson, Mr. Dickson, Mr. Vaughn, and Mr. Longcope just stand and smile.

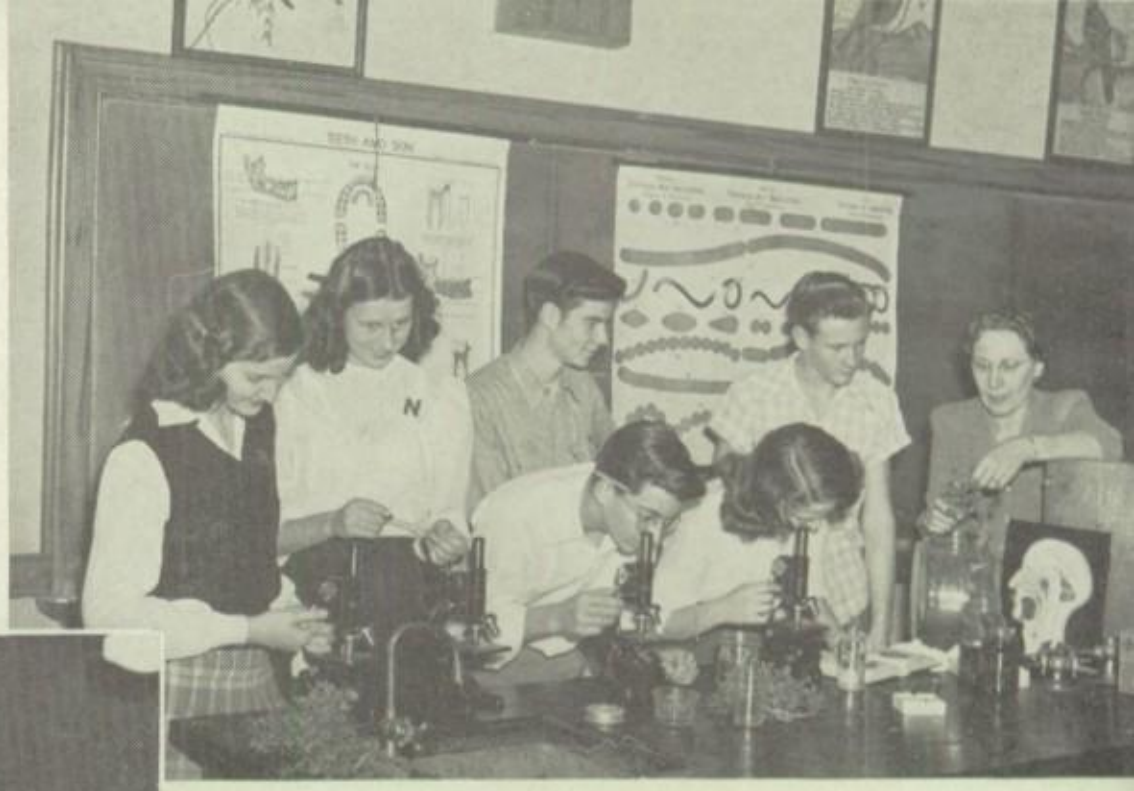
Mrs. Orman, Miss Fuller, Mr. Dougherty, and Mrs. Hennes have stopped to chat around the display case in the library.

Mrs. Hyman, Mrs. Rochefort, Miss Weinberg, Mrs. Robb, Miss Bryan, and Mr. Mills gather in Miss Bryan's room to discuss their history classes.

Mr. Burns, Miss Hicks, Mrs. Miner, Miss Hubbard, Miss Pleasants, Mr. Bailey,. Miss Wilson, Miss Anderson, Mr. Uzzell, and Miss Weller consented to have their pictures taken in front of the school.

Miss Burghdorf, Mrs. Rockwell, Mrs. Bourgeois, Mrs. Mottley, and Miss Dvoracek grin in the sun as they watch their gym classes.

Classrooms



Fascinated sophomores peep into the microscopes in the Biology lab, while Mrs. Miner endeavors to interpret the wiggly sights they see.

The smiles in the Home Economics' Room clearly show how proud the girls are of the clothes they've made.

Not a classroom, but much more welcome!— That's the cafeteria at noon each day.

Mr. Keding can be seen directing the Lamar R.O.T.C. band, which is performing for the Freedom Train.

A familiar sight is this picture of a Lamar classroom. The mingled expressions form a representative cross-section of student opinion concerning the problems of English grammar.

Busy, bright, and buzzing, the shop room teems with activity.

Yes, it's a picture! Lots of them line the walls of the Art Department as tangible proof of Lamar's artistic skill.

No quiet haven is the typing room, but from its clickety-clack come many budding secretaries.

Finale

HONOR CLUBS

The Student Council officers are: (standing) Earl Bellamy, president, and Don Olsen, treasurer; (sitting) Julia Picton, secretary, and Joan Eckhardt, vice-president.

The Student Council

To become a member of the Student Council is one of the highest honors a pupil at Lamar can attain; for the Council is composed of a representative cross-section of Lamar, and the duties placed upon them are many. The members serve for an entire school year, which is always a busy round of publishing and selling the school directory, selling Coronet magazines, conducting elections, collecting subscriptions for the Orenda, and furnishing the school with scholarship merit awards which are presented twice a year to students with all A averages. Besides these indispensable services to the school; they contribute annually to the Community Chest, Red Cross, and Book Week. So it is obvious that the officers, who are Earl Bellamy, president; Joan Eckhardt, vice-president; Julia Picton, secretary; cnd Don Olsen, treasurer, have an active year even though they are assisted by a very able sponsor, Miss Helen Weinberg.

Arrowhead

The reward for those who have studied long and diligently during their four high school years is membership in the Arrowhead Society, which is a club open only to senior students having a 4.6 grade average and a record of outstanding service to the school. Once accepted, the members work selling Lamar stickers, pencils, and bookcovers to raise money for a gift to be presented to the school when they graduate. They also find time to arrange attractive displays in the Library museum case. On Class Night every year, Arrowhead presents a cup to its most valuable member. Last year this cup was awarded to Walter Clemons.

In September, the Society elected officers for the year. They are: Sam Croom, president; Sallie Smoot, vice-president; Ruey Boone, secretary; Ralph Bowen, treasurer; and Marie Restivo, attendance clerk. Arrowhead is sponsored by Miss Drew Black Staggs and Miss Nell Morris.

National Honor Society

Since 1922, when the National Honor Society was first founded, it has grown into an organization of over 2000 chapters, whose total membership includes 250,000 students.

The object of the Lamar chapter is to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character. Under the direction of Mr. W. J. Moyes, the club was led during the fall semester by Ralph Bowen, president; Helen Graves, vice-president; Reba Michels, secretary; and Henry Mayers, treasurer. In the spring, Nic Tengg took over as president; while Ruey Boone was vice-president; Mary Knobelsdorf was secretary; and Clyde Warner was treasurer.

National Thespian is an organization composed of those students in Lamar who have theatrical aspirations and who have proved the extent of their ambition by earning at least ten points in backstage work and in dramatic scenes given in class and on the stage.

The Lamar chapter of National Thespian was organized in 1945 under the sponsorship of Mrs. Ula Hennes. The officers for this year are Mary Sue Sheffield, president; Bill Ruffner, vice-president; Mary Ellen Donnelly, secretary; Betty Pennington, treasurer; and Bill Davis, sergeant-at-arms. For three years the club has worked devotedly to promote an interest in dramatics and to put before the school entertainment that they will enjoy. So it is, that a large portion of the thanks for Lamar's outstanding programs rightfully goes to the National Thespian Honor Society.

The "H" Association

This year a group of the athletes in Lamar got together and organized an athletic society for those boys who have earned letters in at least one of the Interscholastic League sports in which Lamar takes part. Prowess in football, basketball, track, swimming, golf, and tennis are demonstrated by the members, who also work to promote good sportsmanship at Lamar and to gain prestige for Lamar athletes. Hal Mickelson, J. E. Dickson, Donald Longcope, and J. D. Vaughn served as sponsors, while the following boys held positions as officers: Earl Bellamy, president; Robert Smith, vice-president; Doyle Beard, secretary; Lawrence Walton, treasurer; James King, sergeant-at-arms, Bill Davis, program chairman; and James Bolton, chaplain.

Quill and Scroll

One of the newest societies at Lamar is the W. J. Moyes chapter of Quill and Scroll, which is an International Honorary Society for High School Journalists. When the chapter organized in the spring of 1947, it set up a program which was to endeavor to promote good journalism and to give recognition to those students who have done outstanding work in this field.

The members, who must be juniors or seniors, are chosen from the publication staffs in each school. Besides maintaining a scholastic average which places them in the upper third of their class, they must have done superior work in writing, editing, or business management, and they must be recommended by the school principal or publication advisor.

For their first full year of active work, the society chose as officers: Paula Meredith, president; Ruey Boone, vice-president; Marie Restivo, secretary; and Jerry Sanders, treasurer. In the spring, Margaret Blau replaced Marie Restivo as secretary, and Pat Devine took Jerry Sanders' place as treasurer.

The members of Quill and Scroll include the following:

Orenda

If Shakespeare could have entered the Orenda room on any day in 1948, he would have uttered, "Confusion now hath made its masterpiece!"

And it would have been an understatement, for the mass hysteria which prevails there throughout the year is comparable only to the general excitement that permeates Lamar on the day the books are returned from the printer. One can see Paula Meredith, the Editor, running a Marathon about the school collecting needed data. She is closely followed by David Knox, the Business Manager, who is endeavoring to make ends meet on the business staff. Back in the Staff room, Assistant Editor Joan Eckhardt works steadily to meet the deadline on senior panels. She is helped by Beverly Smyth, Gypsy Zimmerman, and Betsy Belstrom, the Class Editors.

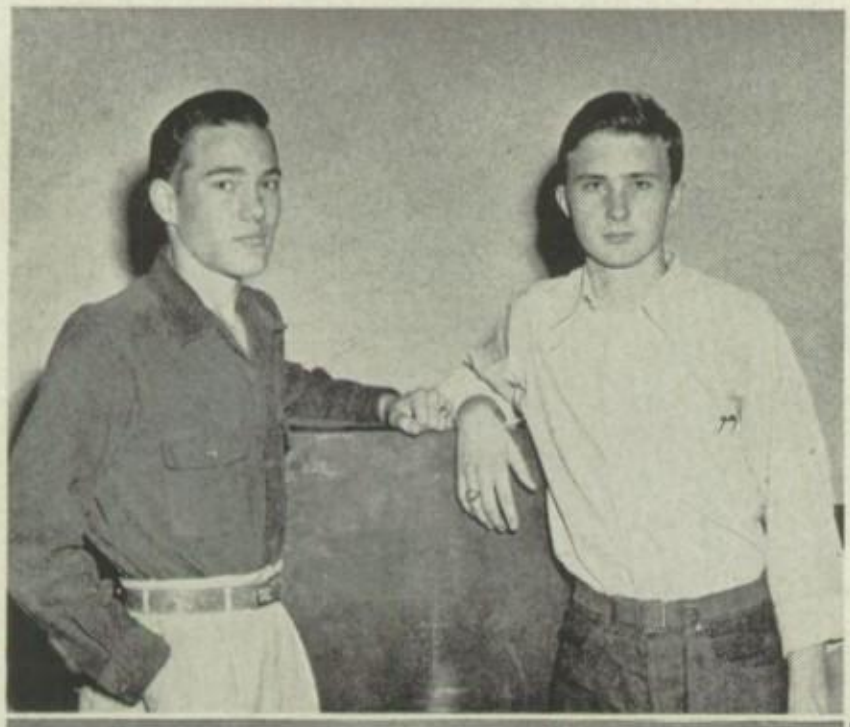
In one corner, Club Editors Emily Petersen and Julia Picton are identifying pictures, while Margaret Blau types reams of literary material, and Nancy Muench, the Art Editor, draws dummy pages. Robert Clemons is about the school collecting pictures for the Life section, and Earl Bellamy, Athletic Editor, can be seen on the field arranging the lettermen. Ann Coe, Faculty Editor, has corraled busy Photographer Fred Durrance long enough to snap a picture of some teachers. Jimmy Wood, Mounting Editor, looks up wearily from his cardboard and glue. On the business staff Shirley Snow, Marie Restivo, and Mary Nell Swartz just write and write receipts. And who are the guiding lights that save the staff from the padded cell? Why, of course, they are the sponsors, Miss Drew Black Staggs and Miss Helen Weinberg.

KNOX
Business Manager

Many important decisions rest on the capable shoulders of Jerry Sanders, Fall Editor-in-Chief.

We don't know how, but John Lindell and John Tapley found a spare moment to pause in front of the camera.



Lancer

Some of the busiest students at Lamar are the members of the Lancer Staff. If you don't believe it, just ask them how they work to meet the deadlines on the school paper every two weeks. You've seen them scurrying about the halls delivering bundles of papers and collecting news items from the teachers and pupils. Here are the Staff positions as they were held in the spring and fall:

STUDY CLUBS

The Library

The library is one of the few organizations at Lamar that affects every student at some time during the school semester. Certainly there is no one who has escaped the numberless trips which must be made to the library each year when the time arrives for term themes, notebooks, and reports. Having once become acquainted with the library, students may enjoy the many beautifully bound books, excellent records, up-to-date periodicals, and interesting displays which make it a room of great attraction to Lamar students. Indispensable to its functioning are Mrs. Mabel Orman and Mrs. Edith Cox, who work faithfully with a corps of student assistants to keep the library a well-ordered place of study and informing relaxation.

These are the 1948 Sequoyha Officers: Ralph Bowen, president; Margaret Blau, vice-president; Ruey Boone, treasurer; Paula Meredith, program chairman; Ann Gossman, secretary.

Row 1: Chanselor, Millis, Sprong, Fairchild, Clemons, Muench, Eastridge.
Row 2: Wilde, Eckhardt, Blatt, Preston. Standing: Sheppard, Tyson. Not in picture: Gypsy Zimmerman.

Sequoyha

In 1943, a group of budding creative writers formed a club that was to endeavor to discover and promote the writing talent of Lamar. Tangible evidence of their success is the outstanding organization which Sequoyha is today. At each regular meeting the members bring in some examples of their own creative work, and these papers are read and criticized by the club and by the sponsor, Miss Margaret Buchanan. The best of the work is sent to the State Essay Contest, the State High-School Poetry Contest, the Eight-State Contest, and the Scholastic Magazine Contest. Results from this competition have placed Lamar on the map as far as literary awards go.

The Texas Junior Academy of Science

One of the oldest and most respected organizations at Lamar is the Science Club. Under the leadership of Mrs. E. W. Miner, the Academy has promoted scientific thinking among Lamar students and has successfully represented the school at yearly state gatherings in different Texas cities. The members attend bi-weekly meetings which are occasionally varied by outdoor excursions to local places of scientific interest, such as hatcheries, bakeries, and medical schools. At other meetings indoor demonstrations are made by the students. Because of the active interest of the club in all fields of science, this year of 1947-1948 was another successful one in the life of the club.

La Cinquantaine

For two years, La Cinquantaine, the French Club, has been an organized part of Lamar life. With the motto "Avance" as an inspiration, the members have worked during the year to promote an interest in the French language and in France. Their biggest project of all has been the task of sending relief to the needy French. This year the officers of La Cinquantaine are Betty Claire Criner, president; Norma Kearby, vice-president; Marian Robinson, secretary; Reba Michels, treasurer; and Nancy Boothe, publicity chairman. The sponsor is Miss Mildred Hubbard.

Wapika

Since Wapika was founded in the fall of 1944, it has grown from fifteen charter members to an active and well organized group of fifty. The name "Wapika" means skill, and the members are noted for their proficiency in art. Demonstrations of their work are continually shown about the school and in contests, and they maintain the art exhibits in the front showcases. The members elected Eleanor Abney president of Wapika, while Ann Coe is vice-president; Marian Huffman, secretary; and Rebecca Dillard, treasurer. Eloise Frame is publicity chairman; Oscar McCracken, club reporter; and Marlin Cruse, membership chairman. The sponsor is Miss Norma Henderson.

In 1943, The Lamar Chapter of the Junior Red Cross was established to help Lamar aid the war effort. Though the war is now over, there are many useful activities in which the chapter still participates effectively. The art classes have co-operated by making tray covers, menus, and other items to be used in servicemen's hospitals. Several clubs have also helped to fill Christmas boxes to send overseas.

Each month representatives from all the schools meet down town at the Y.W.C.A. There they decide on the educational assistance to be given from the Junior Red Cross funds to the less fortunate schools in the city. At these meetings they also devise ways to bring holiday cheer to the veterans in hospitals and to the needy people in Houston.

In the Lamar Chapter Louella Kendrick is president, Louise King is vice-president, and Martha Moore is secretary and treasurer. Mrs. Elanor Huddleston is the sponsor.

The Speakers' Forum

This year Lamar has had the privilege of being represented in all fields of speech by this unusually active group of students. Under the leadership of Mr. Floyd Dougherty, representatives from the Speakers' Forum have entered meets in Houston and in many other southern cities. Early in the fall they distinguished themselves by reaching the finals in the Sunset Tournament in Dallas. This victory was followed by similar ones in the Reagan meet at Houston, and the Baylor contest at Waco. At Shreveport, in March, John Neibel placed first in extemporaneous speech, and the boy and girl debate teams brought home two cups. Highlighting the year was the tournament that the Forum held at Lamar, in which seventy-five debate teams, and forty extemporaneous speakers from schools all over Texas and Louisiana entered.

Since the members feel that the proper use of words is essential to future success, the Speakers' Forum has tried to encourage all types of good speaking habits among Lamar students. Leading the club are the following officers: Ralph Bowen, president; Dorothea Bachemin, vice-president; and Louellen McBrayer, secretary.

Los Habladores

The beautiful and colorful "pinatas" which decorate the Library each Christmas are the work of the members of Los Habladores, the Spanish Club. By making these "pinatas," which are given to needy children, and by doing similar services throughout the year, the Spanish Club tries to promote an interest in the language and customs of the Latin American countries. The monthly meetings of the club are conducted by Shirley Snow, president; Henry Wilde, vice-president; Ruth Heard, secretary; Billy Hardin, treasurer; Betty Willetts, member-at-large; and Miss Helen MacMaster and Miss Julia Pleasants, sponsors.

The Christian Student Union

The Christian Student Union is composed of those students who are interested in demonstrating appreciation to all religions, in showing a mutual love of God, and in encouraging good citizenship and Christian fellowship among Lamar students. At the meetings, different denominational leaders conduct the programs, and then the members work on various charitable projects. The officers, assisted by the sponsor, Mr. Uzzell, are: James Bolton, president; Mary Sue Sheffield, vice-president; Beverly Ward, recording secretary; Martha Brown, corresponding secretary; Perryman Collins, treasurer; John Lindell, chaplain; Ruth Ann Null, sergeant-at-arms; Polly Campbell, music director; Carolyn Williams, pianist; and Virginia Tigner, parliamentarian.

Kachina

The members of Kachina include those students in school who have a flair for drama. Not all of them are actors and actresses; but, without exception, they remain busy throughout the year. Backstage work, lighting, costuming, and make-up, are studied as well as the finer points of dramatic work.

One of the biggest events each year in the life of the club is the production of the annual

It takes ladder, hammer, and plenty of help to arrange the stage for every program. An example of the finished product can be seen on the lower left, where the girls represent roses in the Book Week show. The finale cast gathered on the stage to pose for the picture on the lower right.

W. J. MOYES
PRINCIPAL

Early last fall the Orenda Staff contacted Mr. Norman Rockwell in order to ask him to judge the pictures which were to be submitted for the beauty section of the annual. To our surprise and elation he accepted readily. Approximately one hundred Lamar girls entered their photographs in January; and, in February, a committee composed of the Staff, a group of faculty members, and four outstanding students, consented to select a portion of these to be sent away. They chose thirty-one as the most attractive, and we shipped them to Mr. Rockwell immediately. From the photographs sent to him, he chose the eleven girls pictured on the following pages. In the order of his choice, they are:

1. Carolyn Woodruff
2. Shirley Snow
3. Betty Elizardi
4. Beverley Kemp
5. Nancy Muench
6. Val Jean Kluppel
7. Mary Ella Jones
8. Ruth Ann Ryba
9. Patricia Forbes
10. Vivienne Schwarting
11. Roseanne Dickson

Because Mr. Rockwell is a well known artist, we felt his choice would please the student body. We wish to express our appreciation to him, and to the many girls who submitted their pictures.

Belles

The Belles Club, sponsored by Miss Helen Greenwood, takes part in charitable, social, and athletic activities at Lamar. Throughout the year, the club has made large contributions to the Community Chest, Book Week, and Red Cross; and at Christmas, the Belles provided toys and a complete dinner for a needy family. Each month a book is donated to the Lamar Library. Every year at the "Friendship Festival," a silver cup is presented to the friendliest boy and girl in Lamar. During the fall of 1947, megaphones and scarfs were sold; and in the spring, the Belles looked forward to their annual formal dance, at which the most valuable member is named. The winner last year was Olwyn Davies.

Louise King is president; Vivienne Schwarting, vice-president; Barbara Holliday, recording secretary; Mary Knobelsdorf, correponding secretary; Katherine Pontikes, treasurer; Jeannette Grogan, social chairman; Virginia Ruth Bryan, sale chairman; Kathryn Wyatt, publicity chairman; Dee Carman, sports chairman; Mildred Willett, chaplain; Pat Spoor, charity chairman; Ruth Ann Clark, Gloria Whitehead, Doris Marquart, sergeants-at-arms; Dorothy Lowth, parliamentarian; Jeanne Bullen, junior membership chairman; and Dorothy Simpson, telephone chairman. Marilyn Vreugde was named Most Valuable Junior Member.

In October, a coke party was held at the home of Virginia Ruth Bryan to honor the new members. In the spring thirteen more members were drawn. They are: Vera Abshier, Shirley Armstrong, Shirley Axline, Martha Bickley, Edwina Blankinship, Janna Jackson, Jeanne Kleine, Doris Labat, Janet Lawson, Charlotte Millis, Nancy Restivo, Betty Womeldorf, and Eleanor Wright.

On the left are the Chums' officers. They are Carolyn Douglas, president; Martha Tullis, vice-president; Pam Thornton, secretary.

Chums

Since the doors of Lamar opened eleven years ago, the Chums Club has stood for charity, hospitality, usefulness, merit, and scholarship.

The familiar blue and white crest, the gold Chums pins, the Heritage Press books presented the library each year, the filling of Red Cross boxes, and various charitable acts are all associated with the club.

In the fall the Chums' Planet Prance was presented. This was followed by the Style Show and Country Carnival in the spring. The crowning social event for all members was the spring formal at the Houston Country Club.

The officers, who work closely with their sponsor, Miss Edna Gehring, are Carolyn Douglas, president; Martha Tullis, vice-president; Ann Cooper, secretary; Pam Thornton, corresponding secretary; Helen Hedley, treasurer; Emily Thompson, social chairman; Joyce Brawner, publicity chairman; Babs Haworth, junior membership chairman; Patty Beamon, sergeant-at-arms; Carol Cook, charity chairman; Maurine Warren, chaplain; Lou Nowlin, sports chairman.

At mid-semester, Dorothea Bachemin, Helen Burke, Janice Carnes, Ann Cline, Frances Guthrie, Ina Claire Kirkpatrick, Elynor Lewis, Mary Margaret McCarthy, Barbara Madden, Gloria Meyer, Carolyn Savage, Jamey Skelton, Marianne White, Joan Wier, and Dolores Willetts were taken in as new members.

Row 1: Ogilvie, Plumb, Poole, Shaw, Silvus, Sprong.
Row 2: Spear, Steinberger, Thompson, Thornton, Tullis, Warren.
Row 3: Wharton, Wheeler, Willetts, Wilson, Wolf, Woodruff.

Irari

The oldest of the present boys' social organizations is the Irari Club. Under the direction of Mr. William Burns, Irari members keep up a steady program of activity throughout the year. Irari is noted for the original and hearty announcements which precede the bi-annual pay dances. This year the two dances which were sparked by lively floor shows were "Basin Street Brawl" and "Santa Anna's Suicide Slide."

An open house was held in the fall to honor the Irari Sweetheart, Dorothy Foster, and the Irari Princesses, Avanelle McDaniel, Eloise Frame, Betty Lynn Riedel, Jackie Herron, Carolyn Douglas, Shirley Edwards, Jo Ann Woodham, and Delores Rogers. In April the club held their formal dinner dance.

The officers for the fall term were: Larry Walton, president; Jimmy Gray, vice-president; John Blakemore, secretary; Ennis Viereck, treasurer; Paul Waters, sergeant-at-arms; Henry Gadbois, publicity chairman; Robert Boddeker, Junior membership chairman; John Miller, sports chairman; and Lee Duggan, social chairman. Spring officers were: Bob Church, president; Lewis Mattingly, vice-president; Martin Scheid, secretary; Buddy Butler, treasurer; John Miller, sergeant-at-arms; Tom Wharton, publicity chairman; Larry Walton, junior membership chairman; Chester Donlin, sports chairman; and Ennis Viereck, social chairman.

The following new members were drawn in February: Sam Bassett, Hal Clark, Don Cutlip, Stanley Daniels, John Davis, Buster Dickerson, Bob Fagley, Hammy Hill, David Leach, Donald Lehde, Maurice Patterson, Kerry Preston, and James Templeton.

Niwauna

If you received a singing valentine last February, you are probably aware of the versatility of the Niwauna Club. Niwauna also is noted for its pay dances, its formal, its Christmas party at Hawthorne School, and the large contributions made to charitable societies.

Mrs. Maud M. Powell serves as sponsor, while in the fall Paula Meredith was president; Beverly Smyth, vice-president; Joan Eckhardt, recording secretary; Gloria Ross, corresponding secretary; Nancy Hippard, treasurer; Beverly Clardy, parliamentarian; Norma Koehring, chaplain; Joan Ragsdale, sergeant-at-arms; Emily Bertelsen, publicity chairman; Julia Picton, sports chairman; and Clare Masterson, junior membership chairman.

In the spring, the president was Joan Ragsdale; vice-president, Beverly Clardy; recording secretary, Emily Petersen; corresponding secretary, Norma Koehring; treasurer, Paula Meredith; parliamentarian, Joan Eckhardt; chaplain, Gloria Ross; sergeant-at-arms, Nancy Hippard; publicity chairman, Joanne Youngblood; sports chairman, Beverly Smyth; and Junior membership chairman, Clare Williams.

This year the following new members were drawn: Sue Aldrich, Barbara Archer, Julia Beal, Beverly Bintliff, Sandra Bourgoin, Shari Collins, Noelie Duggan, Carolyn Farrell, Patsy Garrett, Pat Gaston, Barbara Hart, Sue Hastings, Libby Herndon, Nancy Hollowell, Sue Hutchens, Diane Lehman, Ann Lingenfelter, Lenore Morgun, Ann Riddick, Sally Ringer, Lorena Ruland, Valerie Sellers, Carol Smith, Beth Smyth, Georgiana Stickler, Sally Stuebing, Gladys Vernon, Margaret Wright, and Jane York.

Row 4: Williams, C., Wills, Winston, Wooldridge, Young, Youngblood.

Palamar

HACK SAN JAC! DOWN DAVIS! These lively mottoes remind you of the bright red football slogan slips which the members of Palamar sell every year. Under the guidance of Miss Sarah Collins, Palamar continues its record of school service, with contributions to the library, Community Chest, and Red Cross.

For its fall pay dance the club presented "The Red and Blue Room." At the annual formal Betty Pennington was named the club's most valuable member.

Palamar's president this year is Betty Pennington. The other officers are: Helen Graves, vice-president; Nancy Nicholson, recording secretary; Jayne Winslow, corresponding secretary; Shirley Snow, treasurer; Betsy Belstrom, parliamentarian; Nancy Markle, sergeant-at-arms; Louise Baker, publicity chairman; Sidney Taylor, social chairman; Nancy Muench, decoration chairman; Mary Jane Garrison, sports chairman; Mary Ella Jones, gift chairman; Ann Fairchild, junior membership chairman; and Martha Moore, chaplain.

In the spring the following new members were drawn: Ann Acker, Gloria Allen, Barbara Bennett, Patsy Beyer, Joann Buckstaff, Elsie Crossman, Sally Fall, Marilyn Graves, Beverly Gregg, Jane Gunter, Jeanne Hall, Mavis Hardy, Nance Hargrave, Jo Ann Heaney, Peggie Jo Jones, Elizabeth Leger, Marian Nichols, Julia Orynski, Dixie Rawlings, and Rosalie York.

Row 3: Gemoets, Hall, Hamlin, Horne, Johnson.

On the left are the Pow Wow officers. They are: Billy Bartle, president; Julia Picton, Pow Wow sweetheart; and Bill Fontaine, vice-president.

Pow Wow

Who at Lamar has never seen the red and white Pow-Wow symbols that appear on notebooks and car windows throughout the year? Or who has not enjoyed before each of their pay dances the entertaining publicity that announce the occurrence of Pow-Wow's Pow-Wow, or the annual May Fete dance? Though these activities typify the busy Pow-Wow members, there are many other duties that the boys perform each year. Besides giving sizeable donations to the Red Cross, Book Week, and Community Chest, they hold an annual formal dinner dance. At this dance, Julia Pictor, elected Pow-Wow Sweetheart for this year, was presented a bouquet of roses.

A capable president for 1947-48 was Billy Bartle, who was assisted by Bill Fontaine, vice-president; Gordon Snively, secretary; and Bob Statler and Tom Gemoets, sergeants-at-arms, Mr. Orris G. Bailey was the club's sponsor.

The following boys were taken as new members this spring: Rickey Black, William Herbert, Fred Huppertz, Bill Lee, Larry Loessin, Kendall Mower, Billy Richards, E. B. Roberts, Pat Whitworth, Teddy Wieghard, and Bert Womack.

Row 1: Kirkham, Kostial, Kurth, Ladas, Lewi, Lockwood.
Row 2: Logan, McCracken, McMullen, Mohle, Moise, Simon.
Row 3: Snively, Standley, Statler, Wheat, Whitehurst, Wolfe.

Ramal

Since its founding in 1942, the Ramal Club has played a leading role in social and charitable activities. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Lee S. Keding, this club is now Lamar's largest boys' club.

Harry Webb was elected fall president; John McHenry, vice-president; Allan King, secretary; Charlie Folwell, treasurer; Earl Bellamy, social chairman; Chili Rivers, sports chairman; Bob Durkee, sergeant-at-arms.

In the spring, Charlie Folwell was chosen president; Jack Farmer, vice-president; Paul Blanton, secretary; David Knox, treasurer; Danny Evans, social chairman; Bob Sinclair, junior membership chairman; Dan Kennerly, sports chairman; and Bob Durkee, sergeant-at-arms.

Members drawn in the spring were: William Allen, George Buckstaff, Bob Carsey, Ralph Carson, Dudley Epps, Sammy Hamilton, Claude Hooten, Tommy Jax, Kenneth McCain, Don Olsen, Bernard Riviere, Warren Sexton, Bob Strawn, Tommy Swartz, and Henry Wilde.

Highlighting the year was the fall dance, the Ramal Roundup, which was a resounding success. At the formal on January thirtieth, roses were presented to Mary Ella Jones, Ramal sweetheart, and Mary Knobelsdorf, newly elected sweetheart, was presented. The year ended with the Ramal's second pay dance, and the annual Ramal track meet.

Tawasi

Busy girls indeed are the members of the Tawasi Club, for their yearly schedule includes such projects as a Christmas formal, two pay dances, and the giving of charitable help to a needy family and to the Bluebird Clinic. Stone benches for the campus are left each year by the graduates, and a cup is presented by the members to the outstanding junior boy.

The officers of Tawasi are as follows: Avanelle McDaniel, president; Elaine Broadwell, vice-president; Ruey Boone, recording secretary; Eloise Garrett, corresponding secretary; Sallie Smoot, treasurer; Nancy Green, social chairman; Betty Lilly, junior membership chairman; Grace Marie Chandler, chaplain; Jane Borneman, sports chairman; Joyce Mattiza, charity chairman; Pat Brigham, parliamentarian; and Beryl Kermeth, sergeant-at-arms. Miss Helen Robb serves as sponsor.

At mid-semester, these girls were drawn as new members: Peggy Anthony, Frances Bell, Sally Belt, Jean Biggers, Sue Boehm, Bobbie Carter, Carolyn Culver, Patsy Cunyus, Ann Everts, Sally Falkenburg, Eileen Friedman, Peggy Kendrick, Gail Maurice, Estelle Rawls, Janice Smith, Peggy Lee Smith, Joy Stelter, and Carolyn Wilson.

Row 3: Sanders, Sandifer, Sheffield, Smoot, Tower, Wallace.
Row 4: Ward, Werley, White, Williams, Woodham, Woodruff.

Haienonis

Haienonis is both an outstanding social club and Lamar's well-known Girls' Choir. Under the direction of Mr. Lee S. Keding, the choir has appeared in many programs at school and at civic functions. This year they sang at the Shrine Ball, and for the Frolics, P.T.A., and Dad's Club. A busy program of social activities is maintained, because yearly Haienonis has two pay dances and their annual formal held at River Oaks Country Club. A banquet was held in February at Ye Old College Inn, and an open house in May honoring the seniors.

The officers elected to serve for the spring semester were: Sherlie Welford, president; Joan Ragsdale, vice-president; Martha Brown, secretary; Pat Pickett, treasurer; Norma Koehring, chaplain; Elaine Broadwell, social chairman; Nancy Green, publicity chairman; and Louise Clegg, sergeant-at-arms.

The Haienonis officers are Joan Ragsdale, vice-president; Shirley Welford, president; and Martha Brown, secretary.

The girls on the left are officers of Ladaka. They are Betty Joines, spring president; Ann Sampson, spring vice-president; and Mary Matlage, fall president.

Ladaka

Lamar's newest social organization is the Ladaka Club. It was organized in 1947 in order to promote wholesome social activities and good scholarship throughout the school.

In January Angela Caldwell, Joanne Day, Pat Gentry, Helen Glick, and Jeanette Lane were drawn as new members.

Officers for the fall semester were: Mary Matlage, president; Georgia May, vice-president; Jackie Herron, secretary; Dorothy Allen, treasurer; Sally Smith, junior membership chairman; Ann Sampson, social chairman; Ruth Ann Edwards, sports chairman; Marilyn Lockard, sergeant-at-arms; and Daisy Johnson, chaplain. In the spring Betty Joines became president; Ann Sampson, vice-president; Georgia May, secretary; Dorothy Allen, treasurer; Betty Lee Gray, sports chairman; Sally Smith, sergeant-at-arms; Pat Royer, chaplain; and Jackie Herron, junior membership chairman.

Row 1: Ahrens, Allen, Anderson, Block, Creager, Criner, Edwards.
Row 2. Gray, Herron, Johnston, Joines, Lapat, Lockard, Matlage.
Row 3: May, McCarty, Roger, Sampson, Smith, Thompson, Williamson.

Highlights

Lamar went wild one Friday night when Chums presented their annual Country Carnival. Seen at the pink lemonade stand are: Ann Krachy, Jean Wharton, Jane Burr, and Joanne Alban. More serious, but just as happy, are the winners of the Ramal and Tawasi cups, presented each year to the most outstanding junior boy and girl. Holding their cups are Robert Clemons and Julia Picton who received the awards for this year. They are congratulated by Paula Meredith and Lee Duggan, last year's winners.

Lamar would be a dull place without the diversion enjoyed by our entrance into athletics. We turn now to a proper balance of recreation, because in the outside life of a school is the underlying spirit for which it is remembered.

Sports in Review

Lamar has triumphed again in the field of sports! For the second consecutive year the Redskin football squad captured the District 13-AA Championship and produced one of the finest teams ever to play in the Bi-District tilt. Not only was the line recognized as the best in this vicinity, but the backfield was one of the fastest and smartest combinations ever fielded by any high school. Three of Lamar's players, Doyle Beard, Bill Davis, and Jim Bolton, were chosen on the all-district team. Among the other men, Lamar students and rooters will not soon forget such Redskins as Perryman Collins, George Pontikes, Marvin Durrenberger, Wayne Scherwitz, Gerry King, Sammy Hamilton, Jake King, Ray Bright, Ray Winters, and Bill Chanslor. At the end of the season, Doyle Beard was given the Most Valuable Player Award, and Perryman Collins was voted an award for outstanding sportsmanship.

As the basketball season closed, Lamar finished third in district competition, but more than once the league leaders had to come from behind to nip the Redskins in the closing minutes of the game. Many thrilling battles were produced during the season, and Lamar participated in more than her share of them. Stalwarts of the team were Earl Bellamy, Bob Church, Larry Walton, George Pontikes, and Doyle Beard; while Sam Croom, Lewis Mattingly, Tommy Brunson, Marvin Durrenberger, and Sammy Hamilton proved to be capable reserves.

As the Orenda goes to press, it is still too early to speculate on the outcome of Lamar's entrance into spring sports. However, we expect our track team to excel, and to be sparked by such athletes as David Knox, J. K. King, Ray Bright, Tommy Graham, Buddy Truitt, Bill Fagan, and Tim Gentry. Harry Webb, Tommy Browder, Bobby Brodnax, and Dudley Epps should prove invaluable as swimmers, and the golf, tennis, and baseball teams are in fine shape for a successful season.

May the Orenda give commendation to the boys who have again placed Lamar in a coveted position on the athletic map!

Captains, Cheerleaders Lead the Way

THE SEASON

The 1947-48 football year was a noted one in Lamar sports' history. Besides the attainment of the District 13-AA crown, the year brought important changes in the coaching staff. During the fall semester, Hal Mickelson and Stoop Dickson coached the A squad and John Vaughn coached the B team. January brought the resignation of all of them. As a result, Fred Pepper and Bob Schultz came to Lamar to fill the vacant places. Thus the many Lamar victories were farewell gifts to the departing coaches and welcome presents to the new ones.

When recalling the season of '47-'48, fans will remember the muddy fields, the unusual spirit in the stands, and the extreme versatility of the players. They will recall the blocked punt in the Davis game, the elation after Lamar tied Reagan, and the heartbreak when we finally lost to Goose Creek. These moments typified the football year.

Lamar Cagers

The basketball team of 1947-48 is the first Lamar team that Mr. Longcope has coached all three years of their high school eligibility. Proof of his excellent work as head coach can be obtained from the record the team set this year. Bob Church placed on the Conroe All-Tournament Team, and Earl Bellamy placed on the Jaycee All-Tournament Five. George Pontikes set the individual scoring record for the season when he sunk 27 points in Lamar's second game with Austin. Bill Fontaine and Lewis Cutrer proved to be valuable managers. Though Lamar placed only third in District competition, the versatility, speed, and wit of the team were of an unusually high caliber.

Track

What Lamar's track men will do this season can only be conjectured, as the major competition occurs too near the end of school to be included in the Orenda. The boys pictured on this page, however, are scheduled to make outstanding showings in the various events. Last year Lamar captured the district and regional titles, and competed notably in the state meet. We wish the track team equal luck in representing Lamar in 1948.

Top: Weight men, high jumpers, pole vaulters. (Standing) Stewart, Collins, Spillios, King, G., Durkee. (Sitting) Bussa, Poole, Fagan, Miller.

Spring Sports

Lamar has been noted for the outstanding success of its golf, tennis, and swimming teams in recent years. Last year the swimming team won the state honors, and the tennis and golf teams were unexcelled in Lamar history. When the competition begins in a few weeks, the boys on this page will probably distinguish Lamar again.

Top: Golfers. Riviere, Burkhart, Longcope, Lewis, Addington.

Athletes in Action

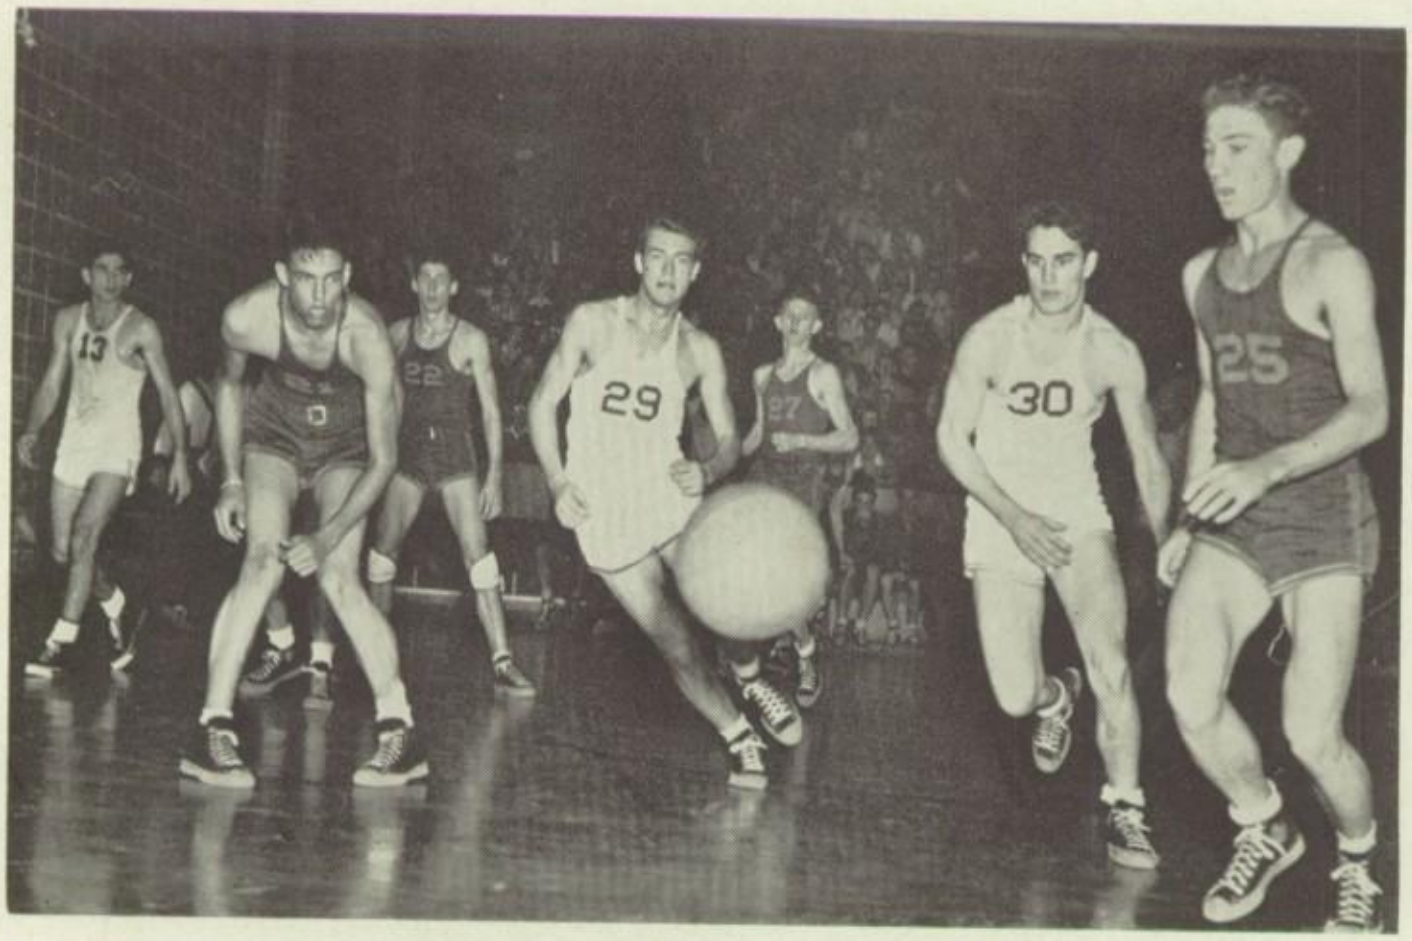
The Goose Creek game brought tears to many Lamar rooters. Seen coming off the field are James Bolton and Gerry King, who are consoled by a Goose Creek player.

James King, protected by a strong Lamar blocker, makes a dash with the ball for a nice game in one of the season's thrillers.

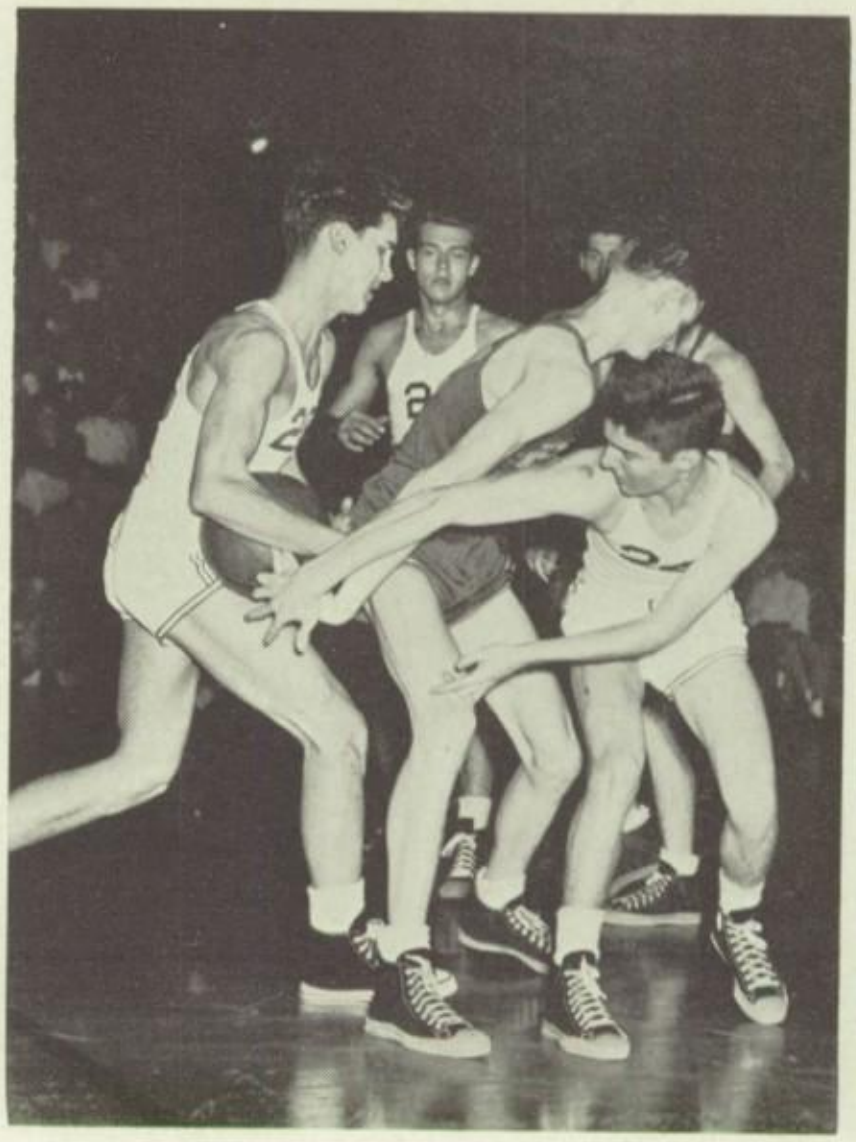
Athletes in Action



George Pontikes, Larry Walton, and Doyle Beard, along with numberless foes, pursue the ball.

It's a toss, and George Pontikes can be seen tipping the ball to Bob Church and Larry Walton.

Lamar boys in the scramble are Sam Croom, Larry Walton, and Earl Bellamy.



We Exercise, Too

A breathless yet stimulated group of girls have gathered around the mirror for that last minute primping and bit of gossip. That's the dressing room after a full hour of textbook diversion or physical education. The screams in the gym after a basket has been made; the tense facial expressions on the badminton courts; graceful "stroke, two, three's" with the tennis racquet; an archery target daubed with arrows; a gymful of legs and arms swinging to and fro; and a baseball diamond in action: all spell a nine-month program of fun as well as health. The Lamar girl is ready to tackle anything after receiving so blended a course. First, she's examined from head to toe by a school physician and taught the essentials of healthful living before she dons the white bloomered suit of action. Also in the life of every physical educational girl comes the moment to modern dance. Like gazelles they learn to leap, skip, and perhaps slip from one corner of the gym to the other. It's beautifying and trying! And still not enough, hundreds crave the excitement of intermural competition after school hours. Who said the feminine form typifies the weaker sex?

In the Limelight

Out of the three years physical training, there will remain to all several indelible memories. "I've finished all my bandages." "Well, I'm through making the bed with patient and all in it." That's a conversation between a First Aid Pupil and a Home Nursing student, who have enjoyed an hour or more each week in tying up or curing their victims.

Special remembrance should be given to nineteen, afternoon-sacrificing girls who labored to place Lamar third in the city volleyball race. Pictured on the bottom row, left to right are: Jean Reynaud, Barbara Wilson, Louise Clegg, Delores Carmen, Marianne Broden, Betty Gray, Jeanne Walker, Cordelia Sprong, Julia Picton, and Martha Brown.

After bowling and archery, swimming affords the last thrill of city competition, whose first place honors were captured in 1947 by the Lamar team composed of Mary Ann Plumb, Harriett Carlton, Joan Eckhardt, Mary Ella Jones, Martha Hodge, Barbara Hamaker, Clare Masterson, and Gayle Garth.

The smoothness and efficiency at which this balanced program is managed is accountable to the leadership of Lamar's four faculty directors, Mrs. Ruth Mottley, Mrs. Frances Rockwell, Miss Helen Dvoracek, Mrs. May Bourgeois and their class assistants whose pictures below are representative of the product of physical education.

Hi-Y

The Lamar Hi-Y boasts the largest membership of any Hi-Y group in the city, since it has almost one-hundred and fifty members. The purpose of the Hi-Y is to "create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character." Officers for 1947 were Earl Bellamy, president; Bill Davis, vice-president; Norman Bale, secretary; and Chili Rivers, treasurer. Because of the large membership, the club was divided into three divisions. President of the Senior division was Tommy Brunson. Harvey Smith was Junior president, and Claude Hooton was Sophomore president.

The ultimate purpose of the R.O.T.C. in Houston High Schools is to develop in the male student a high sense of patriotic citizenship and an interest in the individual responsibility of citizenship toward the preservation and protection of American institutions and ideals. Eligibility to membership is limited by Army regulations to boys who are not less than fourteen years of age, whose bodily condition indicates that they are physically fit to perform military duty, or will be upon the arrival of military age. The R.O.T.C. program at Lamar includes physical education in the form of drill, athletics, and riflery, and technical education in the field of army tactics.

Non-Commissioned Officers' Club

Through a hope of increasing better relations among the men in Lamar's Reserve Officers Training Corps, and through a desire to give them enjoyable extra-curricular activities as a group, the Sergeant's Club of last year was enlarged this year to permit membership to all of the non-commissioned officers.

As a group, the members have had a chance this year to gain valuable information through outings, through films taken in combat areas during the last war, and from technical lectures on the various weapons and other equipment used in our armed services.

This year the president of the Non-Commissioned Officers Club was Jimmy Wood. The club elected Ralph Bowen vice-president and Kenneth Clark secretary-treasurer. Sergeant Stevens has ably served as supervisor and sponsor.

The R.O.T.C. Officers' Club

The officers of Lamar's Reserve Officers' Training Corps Unit organized a club several years ago to plan better training of the cadets under their command. They have worked consistently to improve the Regiment by means of interesting discussions of army tactics, the encouragement of congeniality, the development of spirit, and the promotion of more comradeship and "Esprit de Corps" among the officers.

The club meets on the second and fourth Mondays of each month. The meetings are under the directorship of Captain B. G. Smith, Army of the United States.

STUDENT LIFE

As Last Year Ended . . .

. . . the 1947 Orenda went to press. Because of an early deadline, it was impossible to include three of the year's major occasions: the May Fete, at which Queen Kitty Fox and her king Jimmy Jamison reigned; the Chums' Spring Formal, held at River Oaks Country Club (the pictures below show the senior members gathered around the piano to sing their club song, and the newly elected officers); Class Night, where the high and mighty Seniors of Lamar received their diplomas (these pictures show the outstanding Seniors on the stage and the rest of the class in the audience).

GRADUATION

This Year Began . . .

. . . in September with three important occasions: the first day of school, with its puzzled Sophomores (Betty Brewster, Claude Hooton, Barbara Madden, and Diane Lehman) and the "early birds" waiting for the doors to open; the first pay dance, held in the gym by the newly elected cheerleaders who displayed all their new yells to the students during their floor show; the Lufkin trip for the first out of town game of the season. The special Lamar train to Lufkin was a topic of conversation around the halls of Lamar for many weeks.

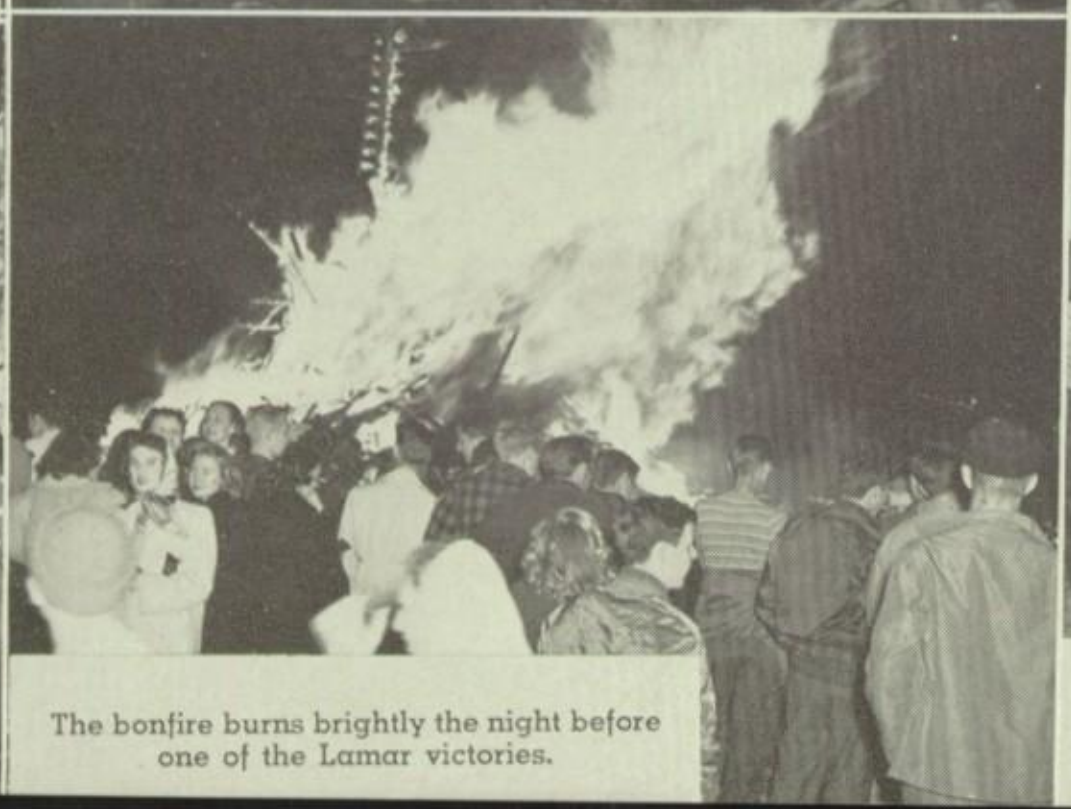
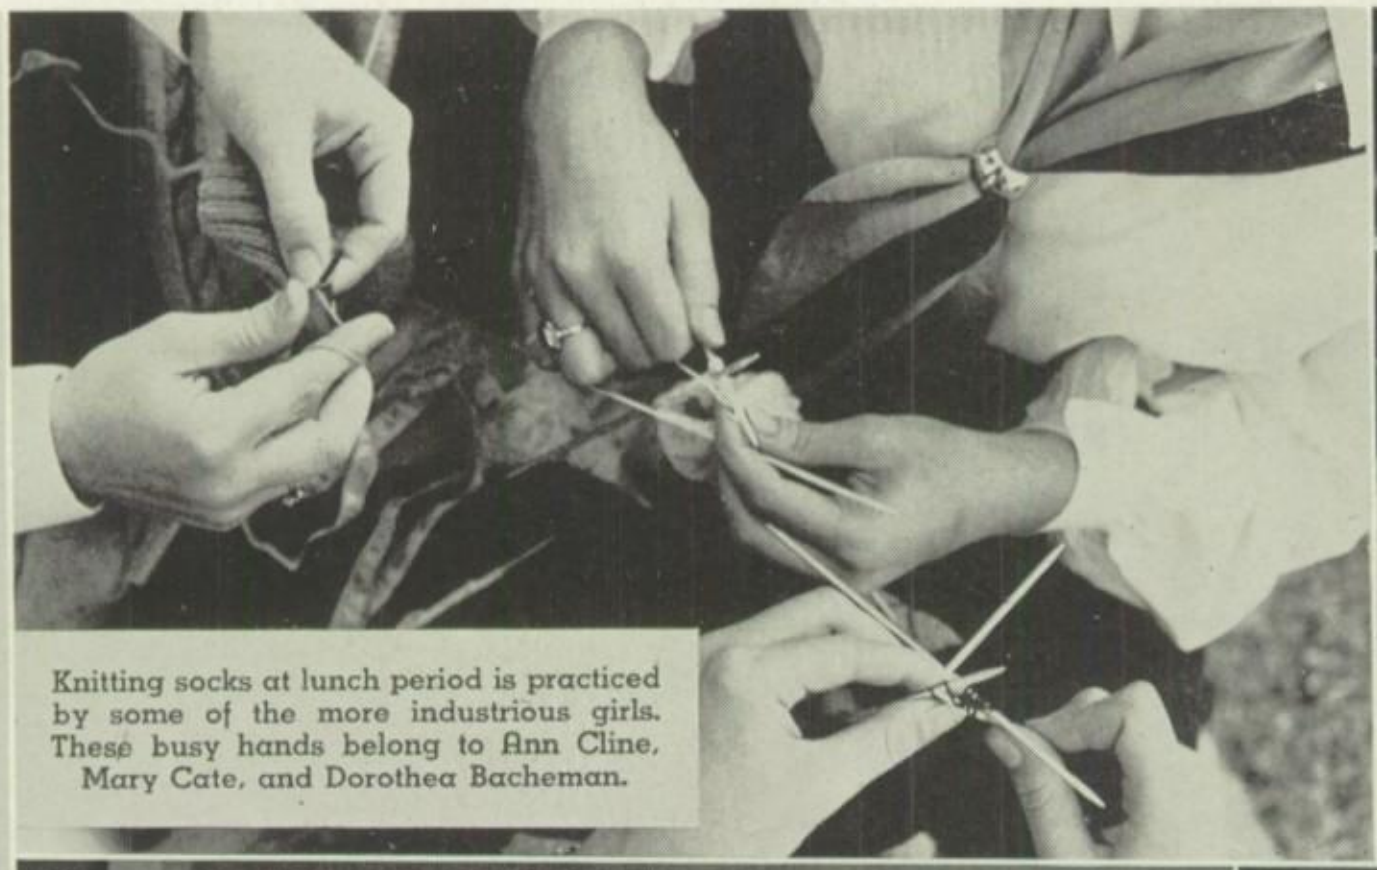
The fire is lighted by Joe Hitchcock.

The annual bonfire on the campus is under construction. Jack Little seems to be having trouble breaking up some firewood; on his left is Carolyn Douglas.



The bonfire burns brightly the night before one of the Lamar victories.

DIVERSIONS



Knitting socks at lunch period is practiced by some of the more industrious girls. These busy hands belong to Ann Cline, Mary Cate, and Dorothea Bacheman.

At Avalon drug store after school are Betty Brewster, Tommy Weighard, Dorothy Foster, Margie Mathis, Ann Playter and Mary Alexander.

At the Christmas Formal given by Palama are Hail, Hildreth, Putney, Alexander, Ho
gan, Gemotes, Bell, Hindrechsen, Wilson
Boothe, Bullock, Shepherd, Dixon, and Baird.

Niwauna officers at their formal are President, Meredith; Vice-President, Smyth; Secretary, Eckhardt; Treasurer, Hippard; and dates Clemons, Taylor, Black, and Warner.

A good game of bridge at the luch table is not uncommon. Here Mary Ellen Donnely, Joan Ragsdale, and two unidentified persons play while Avanelle McDaniel looks on.

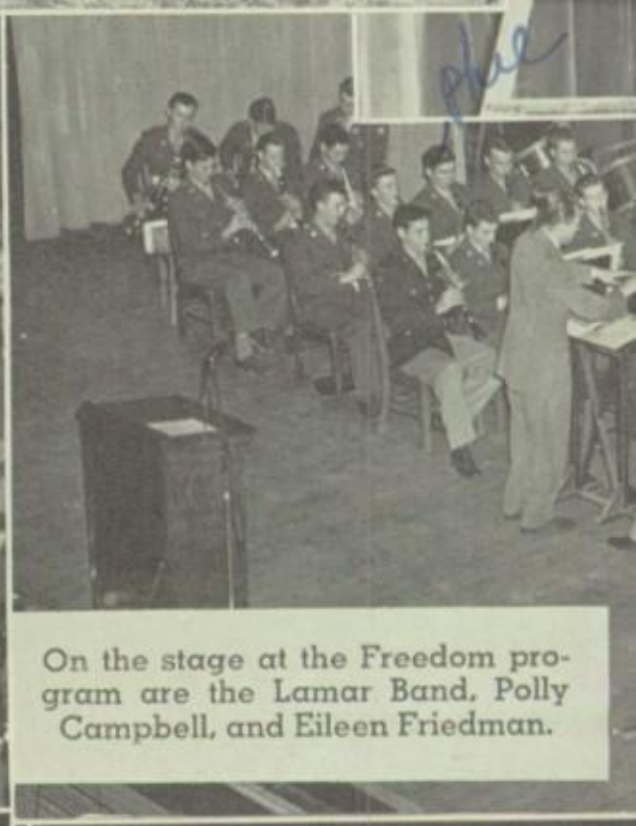
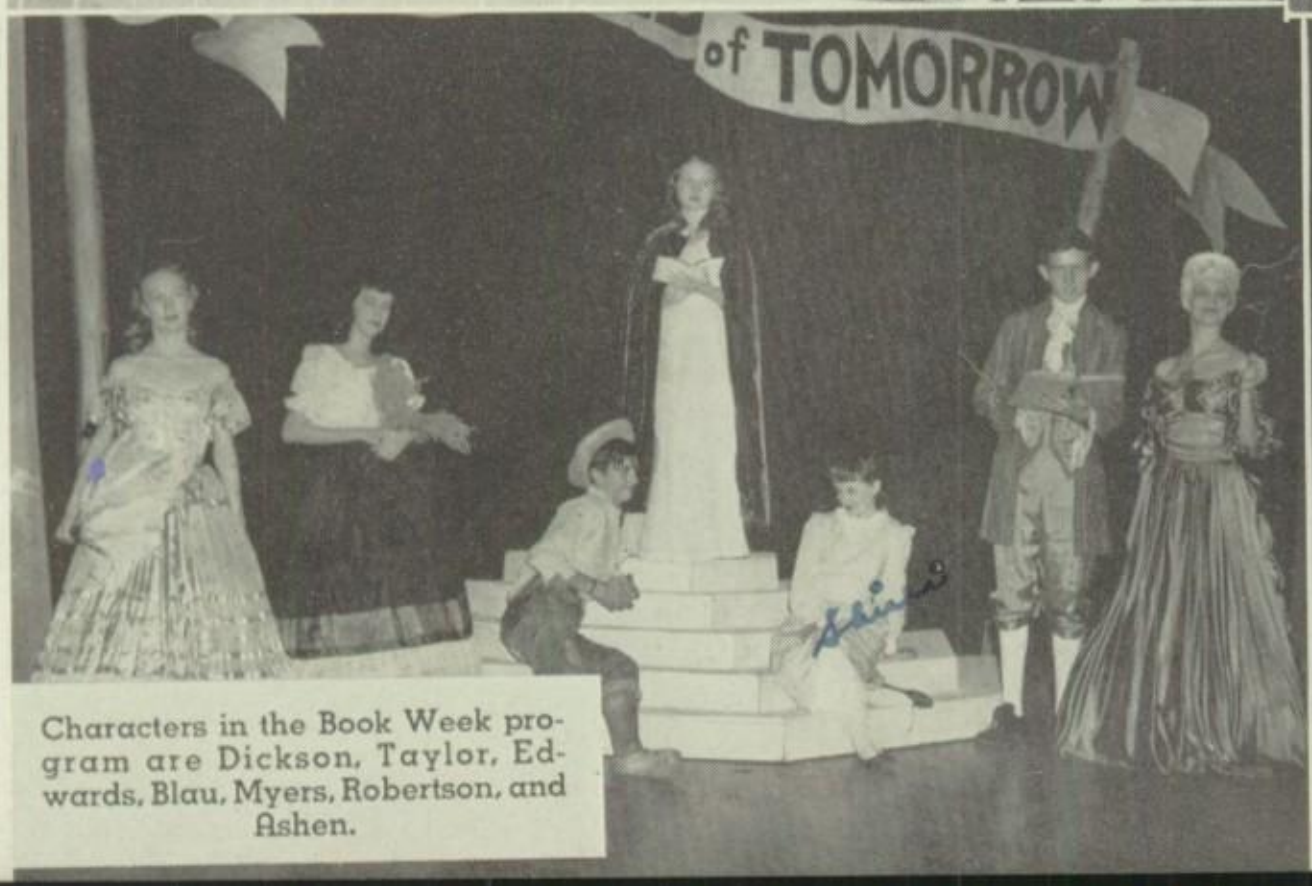
After a game of bowling after school are Eckhardt, Garrison, Meredith, Nicolson, Haworth, Clardy, and Pennington.

At the half the Lamar band headed by Roy Striekert and band sweetheart Joan Eckhardt offer entertainment.

A crowd of Lamar rooters at the Davis game. You can probably find Melvin Brochstein, Sandy Sanderson, Pong Folwell, Eloise Frame, Dick Criss, and Betty Willetts.



On the stage at the Freedom program are the Lamar Band, Polly Campbell, and Eileen Friedman.



Characters in the Book Week program are Dickson, Taylor, Edwards, Blau, Myers, Robertson, and Ashen.

At the half, Hamilton, Bright, Durrenberger, Durkee, Smith and Bintliff, leave the field.

DEMONSTRATIONS

FROLICS

The Square Dance added color to the Frolics. Seen here are Henri Gadbois, Ann Lingenfelter, Al Hildreth, Rosanne Dickson, Robert Clemons, Gayle Garth, George Dorrance and Mary Owen Jones.

In the "By the Sea" act Ray Bright, John Davenport, Wayne Scherwitz, Carlton Curry and Bill Ruffner succeeded in bringing the house down with their dance.

A Word of Thanks . . .

As the Orenda goes to press, the Staff looks back with appreciation on those who have helped us make the book for 1948 a reality. We would like to extend special thanks to Fred Durrance and Jimmy Wood, who took many of the pictures seen on the preceding pages; to Ralph Bowen, who assisted us in photographing the R.O.T.C.; and to Henry Gadbois, who helped us meet an early mounting deadline. Mrs. Edith Ferrell provided endless valuable lists, without which we could never have completed the book; and Mrs. May Bourgeois aided us in compiling the girls' athletic section. Mr. Milton Lawless and Mr. Jim Thomas of Lawless and Son Studios were responsible for the class pictures; while Roulande Studio photographed the social clubs. Mr. Lee Burge from Gulf Publishing Company, and Mr. Henry Hartman of Parke Engraving Company directed the printing and engraving. Above all, sincere gratitude is due the many teachers and students who have co-operated willingly to make the Orenda a success.
